

The South Pole Ice Area is 90.6 km² on average through 1978 to 2024

In 1992, there was a historically low ice area, with only approximately 67.5 km² recorded.

Source: National Snow & Ice Data Center
Note: Missing data in years of 1978 and 1988